COPYRIGHT BY DEAN DUDLEY; A. D., 1878.

The publishers of this Directory have long used Maynard & Noyes' Writing Ink, and they cordially and freely recommend it to their patrons, and the public generally, as perfectly reliable.

PREFACE.

This is the fifth volume of the "Bristol County Directory," compiled and published by the undersigned, within the last twelve years.

The work has lived and thrived through varying times of prosperity and depression in business. It may surely claim popularity and success,—its rewards bestowed by the patronizing public. We are heartily thankful for all the favors received, and to envious rivals in the publishing line, we can afford to be generously forgiving.

Our information has been obtained by persistent and expensive efforts, and is generally accurate. The few errors and defects are such as works of this kind are ever subject to,—errors of clerks, printers, proof readers, etc. We have corrected many, but still some remain to humble the responsible author, who is himself imperfect, and sometimes writes the word he does not mean.

Several of the towns and cities have, on request, furnished us their lists of newly elected officers; and in some cases, we have printed both the old lists and the new.

All the information has been collected within a few weeks. Even to the last moment we have advertised for recent changes.

Our plan is to go to each city and town, and call upon every business man for his card, having a scrap book with each name printed as in the old Directory; when a name stands correctly, it is checked; and all these checked names are reprinted in the new book, while those not checked are erased, new ones being written in.

ERRORS.

On page 196, under Societies of Taunton, "Easton" Benevolent Association, is a misprint for "East Taunton" Benevolent Association.

Page 141, Long Plain is placed in Fairhaven; but it belongs in Acushnet.

PIANOS

AT GREAT BARGAINS.

Woodward & Brown

[ESTABLISHED 1843.]

690 Washington St., a few doors north of Kneeland St.

BOSTON.

The remarkable beauty and purity of sound that modern skill has succeeded in producing, are nowhere better exemplified than in the instruments that crowd our warehouses. All the qualities that give superiority, strength of tone, sonorousness, ability to stand in tune, and ease and flexibility of action, are found there in perfection. These Pianos have long been famous, also, for thorough workmanship, and the durability that characterizes them. After years of service, the full, mellow tone, so delightful and satisfying to the ear, is as perfect as at first, and in every detail care and nicety in labor are evident.

At the recent Worcester County Exhibition they were awarded the highest premium. The same was the case at the last great Exhibition and Fair of the Massachusetts Charitable Association, held in Boston, of which the late Jonas Chickering was the president; and his pianos took the second prize. They will stand in tune longer than any other piano manufactured, as we make a specialty of that point.

Pianos sold on Instalments. Old Pianos taken in Exchange for New.
Pianos to let. Pedal Pianos. Tuning and Repairing done in the best manner.

The leading Business College of Providence, and a prominent member of the Associated Business Colleges of America.

The only institution in Rhode Island where Bookkeeping is taught as a science, and where theory and practice are so harmoniously blended, that when a principle is enunciated, its application is immediately shown.

The design of the Institution is to prepare Boys, Young Men and Ladies, in the shortest time and most perfect manner, for the active duties of life.

The course of instruction is so arranged and practically taught, as to give a thorough and accurate knowledge of such branches as all men ought to be skilled in, and is especially adapted to the demand of a large class of young and middle aged men and women, who are looking to the fields of active business life for future remuneration and social position.

MACULLAR, WILLIAMS & PARKER,

Clothiers,

Importers and Jobbers of Fine Woolen Goods for Gentlemen's Wear.

In presenting our advertisement to the notice of the public, this season, we take occasion to state the nature of our business and the principles on which it is conducted.

We combine in one building the following branches:—

1. IMPORTING AND JOBBING.

We import and sell at wholesale all the best makes of fine woolen goods, suitable for Merchant Tailors' use.

Our importations of goods of this kind have probably been, during the last few years, larger than those of any other house in Boston. We have special advantages with some of the best European manufacturers, and have many desirable lines of goods made exclusively for ourselves. Our business in this department is with Merchant Tailors throughout the United States.

Entrance for Wholesale Cloth Department,

81 HAWLEY STREET.

2. RETAIL READY-MADE CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

Particular attention is paid to the quality of materials and work in our retail clothing stock.

The greatest degree of care is exercised in the selection of cloths and trimmings, and all articles in this stock are made in our own workshops by hands kept constantly employed throughout the year, and from one year to another, so that we are enabled to offer in this department garments which are warranted far superior, in every respect, to much of the cheap clothing which is now being made to order at low prices.

Notwithstanding the demand which has lately arisen for cheap goods, we are not willing to throw away the results of our twenty-five years' constant endeavors to obtain a reputation for producing GOOD CLOTHING, by taking up the manufacture of the kinds of goods just now in favor, on account of the extreme lowness of price. We are able to make as low prices as any house in the country for the quality of goods which we manufacture, and we know them to be the cheapest in the long run.

Entrance to Retail Clothing Department,

400 WASHINGTON STREET.

Branch of Retail Clothing Department,

53 and 57 WESTMINSTER ST., PROVIDENCE, R. I.

3. CUSTOM DEPARTMENT.

In this department we aim to produce the choicest work possible, using only the best fabrics of the first European and American manufacturers.

Prices as low as can be made for first-class work.

Entrance to Custom Department,

400 WASHINGTON STREET.

4. FURNISHING GOODS DEPARTMENT.

Orders are here taken for making best shirts to measure, and in stock may always be found the finer grades of gentlemen's Underwear, Gloves, Collars, &c., &c.

Entrance to Furnishing Goods Department,

400 WASHINGTON STREET.

In conclusion we would say that if any article sold by us, happens to be defective in any respect, the purchaser may be assured that it is the result of accident or mistake, which will be rectified by us to the fullest extent.

Terms Cash.

One Price Only.

E. HOWARD & CO.
MANUFACTURE
CLOCKS AND WATCHES.

ELECTRIC WATCH CLOCK,

For the Detection of Delinquent Watchmen on Night Duty in Factories, Railroad Stations and Public Buildings.

The Watch Clock is used in all Manufactories, Railroads, Lumber Yards, and all places where watchmen are kept during the night. The clock may be placed in the "Office," or in a separate building, at a distance from the premises to be guarded. A system of wires radiates from the clock to all buildings and points which it is desirable for the watchman to visit in his tour of duty. At each point or station, the watchman inserts and turns a key, or simply touches a knob, which causes the electric current to pass and do its work upon the magnet at the clock, and cause a pencil record on a PAPER DIAL at the exact instant when the key is turned. The watchman, in this manner, passing round from station to station successively, makes TELEGRAPHICALLY his own record of duty done; showing the time of each visit to each station, as well as the time occupied between the stations, and of course the whole time taken up in making the entire round, and also in going all the rounds; and if all the stations have been visited or neglected, the facts will be shown upon the dial. In fact, the Superintendent can read in the morning the exact part of the premises at which the watchman was, at any minute of his required tour of duty during the night.

John Leary, the Blind Beggar Boy of Boston.

ONE of the greatest virtues, and that which gilds the character of man with an imperishable and lustrous halo, is benevolence.

He who spake as man never spake said, "The poor ye always have with you;" and we need no better commentary on the veracity of those prophetic words, than the continual and energetic appeals to the sympathies of our nature, from the numberless suffering poor, who meet you at almost every turn.

"Pity the sorrows of a poor old man Invites our aid as sorrows ever can."

That beautiful sentiment, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," has been acceded to, and endorsed by hundreds upon hundreds; and the selfishness of our humanity has been robbed of its bitterness, and the impassioned poesy of kindness and tenderness superseded its rule by the unbridled cultivation of this praiseworthy and soul-stirring virtue.

In the annals of history, the names of human benefactors and philanthropists fill an important and imposing niche. Memory loves to linger around them, and festoon garlands of fame to enwreath and commemorate their acts of love and mercy.

The millionaire and the peasant stand side by side in the work of benevolence, and the "cup of cold water" administered by either, "shall not lose its reward."

These few prefatory remarks have been awakened by an extraordinary act of benevolence and sympathy, manifested and carried into completion by our much esteemed and highly respected fellow-citizen, Doctor E. F. Whitman, a narrative of which is substantially as follows:—

John Leary, aged nine years, the subject of the following remarks, was born in the city of Boston. When John was a year old, the "destroying angel" entered their humble abode, and tore from the embrace of the confiding wife, the only being on whose sympathy and protection she could rely, and the husband and father was borne to the silent tomb, leaving the sole care of the family to the widow, who has struggled on with her charge, through poverty and privation, and all the varied vicissitudes of life, up to the present date.

At the age of three years, John was attacked by measles, a disease remarkable as one whose peculiar characteristic is, that it sometimes leaves its victim in a very debilitated and enfeebled condition; and often years elapse before a complete restoration of health is thoroughly effected. In the case under consideration, the poor sufferer was left completely blind. For three years he was under treatment at the State Infirmary, an institution of extraordinary renown, but failing to get relief was pronounced incurable and hopelessly blind.

He was then placed under the care of several most eminent private practitioners and oculists, all of whom, after exhausting their skill and patience, returned a verdict of hopelessly blind and incurable, and the case was dismissed, and the boy sent home, a burthen to himself and a source of grief to his sorrowing and distressed parent.

From this date, John is familiarly known as "the Blind Beggar Boy;" and scarcely a house in Boston and vicinity but whose portals have been darkened, and whose halls been made to echo to the mournful tones of the poor boy, as he solicited aid for a poor blind boy whose father is dead, and whose mother is in want.

We have often seen him as led along by the friendly hand of his sister; and our heart melted into pity, at the great affliction which an inscrutable providence had seen fit to measure out to this son of sorrow.

On one occasion, while walking about alone, and, as it seemed, bereft of all aid, he wandered into a store for the purpose of asking alms; and the scuttle being open the unfortunate boy fell through, and by breaking a leg and so badly injured otherwise that he had to remain for eight weeks in the hospital, whence he was taken, before he was sufficiently recovered to resume his usual occupation.

It chanced that in his rambling visitation he called on Doctor Whitman, repeating the customary salutation, "a few pennies to buy bread: my father is dead, my mother is poor, with three children in the family, and I am blind."

Touched by the appeal, the doctor examined the eyes of the poor boy and ascertained that he (the boy) could discern a dark object between him and the light, and at once took him under treatment, and (according to the deposition of the boy, which, ocular demonstration verifies and confirms) in two weeks he so far recovered his sight as to visit the office alone. After nine months' treatment he was able to see quite well, even at a distance. John is now learning to read.

Such is substantially and truly a correct statement of undeniable and stubborn facts, and the whole proceedings are as remarkable as they are interesting and satisfactory. But the question arises — how is it that Doctor Whitman was successful with a case which baffled the skill of so many eminent physicians? In reply we would say, that, added to practical skill and genius, the entire sympathies of the Doctor became enlisted in this peculiar case; and bringing to bear all the energy and knowledge of the profession at his command, he has consummated that which, in the parlance of Scripture phraseology, we now "hear and see."

In the estimation of men, human genius rises to her zenith of perfection, when, in the magnanimity of her movements, she has achieved a conquest over the imperfections and deficiencies of nature. Science, aided by the electricity of thought and action, unfolds to the perceptive faculties numberless and beautiful arrangements, whereby social life is wonderfully benefited, and many of our domestic and constitutional defects ameliorated and rounded to the insignificance of a point. In the variety of sufferings, the oculist holds a position of noble and lofty eminence.

The surroundings of worldly grandeur, and all the varied paraphernalia of gilded luxury lose their charms when the demon of torturing and withering malady paralyzes and distorts the system with its unfriendly and unwelcome influence; and it is only when the healthy flow of mind and body predominates the whole system, mentally and physically, works in harmonious perfection, that we can rejoice in the luxurious buoyancy of unfettered mirth and cheerfulness, and appreciate the inspiration of poetic truth and minstrelsy in those beautiful words, —

"O harmony my heart's delight,
My joy and solace day and night,
Thee have I chosen for my own.
And thou shalt be my love alone."

But, when the human organization is disarranged, and disease, or any harassing defect perplexes the frame, we adopt the language, —

"But when sore griefs oppress the heart,
When health, and joy, and strength depart,
Then joy and hope no more appear,
But life is cheerless, dull and drear!"

In conclusion, and in view of all the facts adduced, what is the inference to be derived from a careful perusal of this narrative? Not that we are deficient in scientific men in any of the departments of Medicine. Not that we are at a loss for men of eminence in the category of diseases incident to our nature, as oculists, aurists, or dentists, or skilled practitioners in surgery and medicine; but we draw the inference, that among the various and lofty talent that characterizes us as a scientific and noble faculty, the present case is a step in advance, and leads to the gratifying reflection that true genius and scientific acumen go hand in hand with benevolence and goodness of heart.

We live in an age of progress; and the accumulating and multiplied diseases that thicken around our pathway, demand that we keep pace with the invader of our domestic bliss, and meet him with a bold and determined front. To such men as Doctor Whitman, who can, as it were, hermetically seal the fabled box of the infuriated and insidious Pandora, we owe more than a bare acknowledgment of professional skill. He who can extract the virus from the sting of approaching death, or drag film from the fast fading orbs of man, is a friend of more than passing worth, and should settle down upon our affections as a philanthropist, whose memory should be embalmed in the evergreens of imperishable recollection.

Doctor Whitman has been established as an Oculist and Aurist upwards of twenty-four years; he is a man of rising and progressive genius, and, unsolicited by any other than the boy who asked alms at his hand, has effected the above miraculous cure, at much expense of time and talent. A discriminating and appreciative community can bear these facts in mind, and when the occasion demands a remedial agency, call to their assistance the simple story of "John; the Blind Beggar Boy of Boston."

Yours, etc.,
